be biodegradable or compostable, breaking down more quickly and leaving a lesser environmental footprint.

1. Biodegradable Materials: Eco-friendly dog poop bags are often made from plant-based materials that decompose in a matter of months instead of decades. This ensures that when you dispose of them, they break down into natural substances.
2. Reduced Pollution: By opting for biodegradable bags, you actively contribute to reducing the overall pollution levels associated with plastic waste. This small change can make a significant difference in the long term.
3. Healthier Soil: Compostable bags can be added to compost piles, which, in turn, enriches the soil and provides nutrients for plants. This cyclical process helps create a healthier and more sustainable environment.
